

South Point School hosted the 17th edition of its annual inter-school fest, Ullas, for the primary section. As many as 700 children from 17 city schools participated in the two-day fest. The on-stage events included Kwizwiz (quiz), Aradhana, (devotional songs), Jhoomar (group dance) and Sound of Music (musical). Some of the off-stage events were Patch-up (collage by paper-tearing), Colour Point (digital painting), Quiz-I-table (quiz on fables and fairy tales) and Spin-a-Yarn (English creative writing). The host school was announced the overall winner but passed on the trophy to Mahadevi Birla World Academy, the runner-up. "We started this inter-school festival in 2003. Every year we try to bring about some change in the events. It is a two-day fest for students of classes II-V," said Dalbir Kaur Chadda, principal.
